Writing: We are spending time sorting through memories and creating seed ideas from authors. Our focus will be on personal narratives.

Reading: We will be asking and creating questions about story elements (who, what, when, where, why, etc.) We practiced Reading to Someone this week as a Daily 5 station and they were all-stars!

Grammar: - We're focusing on proper nouns and what needs to be capitalized.

Science: Mrs. Amaral is covering states of matter this nine weeks.

Math: We are working on place value, what a number really means by place value and how to make a number more than one way. This will help our mental computation in adding/subtracting larger numbers in our heads. (For example:  $495 + 328$ ). This is only the first step towards numbers that large. Right now we are working within the 10s places. I introduced the "open number line" to them this week.

Social Studies: We are exploring the 5 regions of Georgia and creating a booklet.
